

I have been an XM subscriber for a year now and will continue to be for years to come. I refuse to listen to AM or FM radio because of all the garbage and commercials that I have to sift through in order to be entertained or get the information that I want. I pay for service to avoid the clutter on the air and I would like other features to be offered as well. XM does not currently offer traffic or weather in the area I live in, and I will rejoice in the day it becomes available. This is simple information that XM provides it's loyal customers and it is silly that they shouldn't be allowed to offer it. Why stay stuck in the past...a company worth investing in stays competitive by providing new and innovative ways to satisfy it's customer's needs, not by trying to alleviate competition...that's an unhealthy way to be successful.
